FUTURE

Foreword

"What does the future hold for me?" "How will I meet the problems of tomorrow?" These are the questions that each student will have to face. As your years of school life progress, you will find that there are no concrete answers, no simple solutions, to the problems of life. But you can discover how to face tomorrow unhesitatingly, unafraid. "Preparation" will become the key word in the solution to these problems.

The 1963 LEAVES OF MEMORY strives to present the steps in reaching the answers through its theme, "Keys to the Future". As you read through its pages, we hope you will find the keys that will unlock the doors and make you ready to meet the challenges of tomorrow.

FACULTY:

Key to Understanding

Park View's faculty consisting of 31 well-qualified teachers are counselors to students, sponsor student projects and organizations, support school activities, lead their pupils in the quest for knowledge, and advise students in their plans for the future.

Administrators Plan School Year

Mr. A. B. Haga, Division Superintendent of Mecklenburg County Schools, received his Bachelor of Education degree from Randolph-Macon College and his Master of Education degree from the University of Virginia.

Mr. E. A. Payne, Director of Instruction for Mecklenburg County, received his Bachelor of Education degree from Hampden-Sydney College and his Master of Education degree from Northwestern University.

Mr. C. H. Morgan, Principal of Park View High and responsible agent of the school board, received his Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Richmond and his Master of Arts degree from Duke University.

The key organization in the Mecklenburg County system is the School Board. Decisions and regulations made by the school board deal with the maintenance of public free schools in the county, curriculum opportunities, personnel, and budget.

School Board members are appointed for a term of four years by the School Trustee Electoral Board. There is one representative from each school district in the county.

School board meetings are held monthly in Boydton in order to discuss problems which occur during the course of the school year.

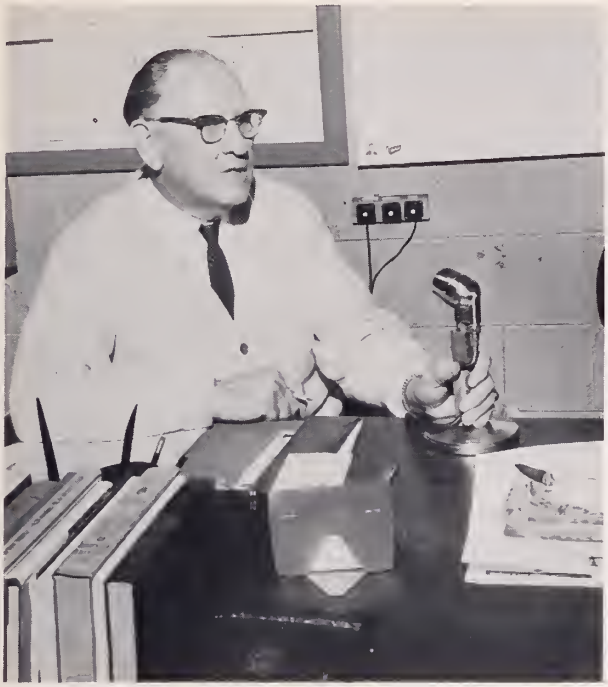
Help in Solving Problems



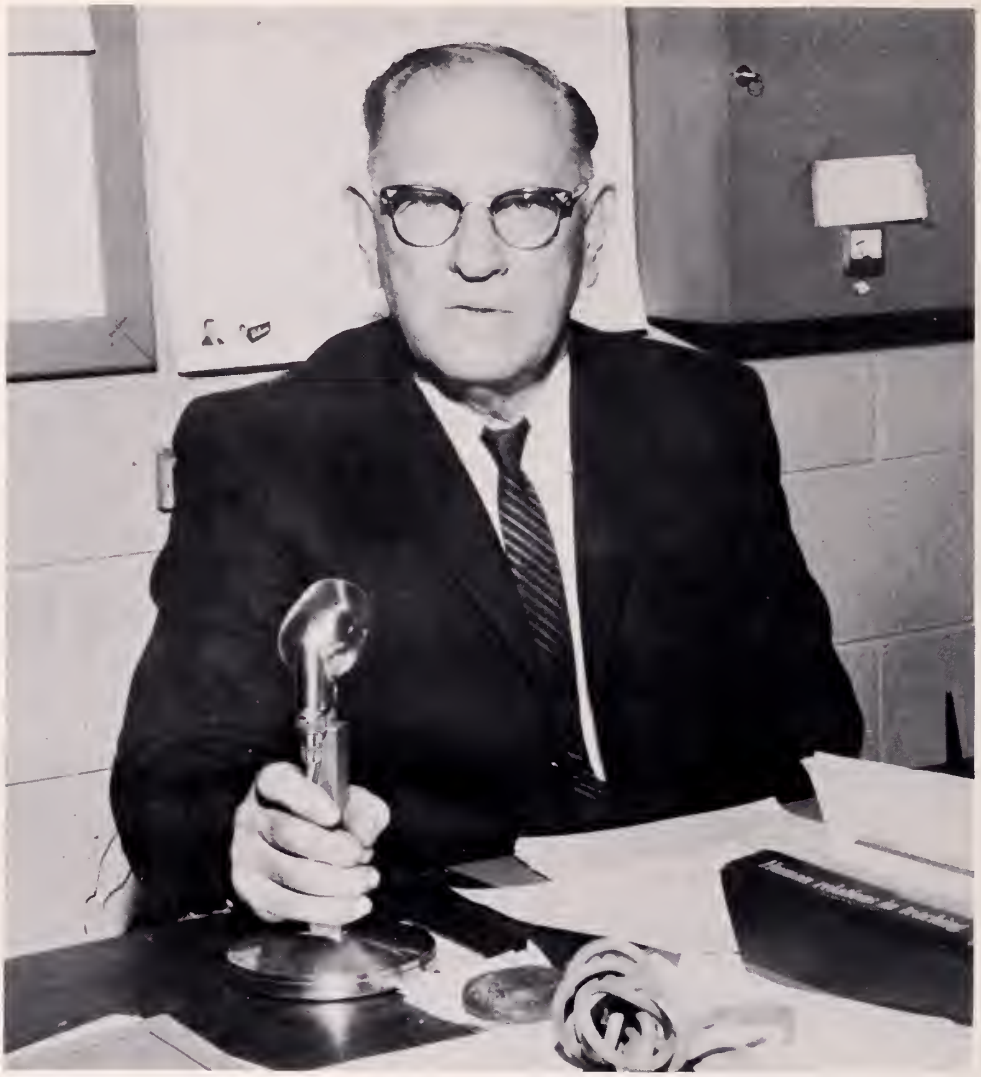
Mr. C. H. Morgan begins each new school day by making announcements over the intercom. As principal of Park View High School, Mr. Morgan supervises the varied activities of the school. His enthusiasm and warm spirit guide the student body in all its endeavors --scholastic, athletic and social.

The Guidance Department is composed of Miss Marguerite Trimm and Mrs. Sara Cliborne. Miss Trimm and Mrs. Cliborne give advice to students concerning their future, for College Board Examinations, and compile test scores for the students.

Mrs. Jill Walthall is Park View's efficient secretary. She is the official bookkeeper, typist, telephone operator, banker, errand girl, and school "nurse". She always has a cheerful smile for everyone.

Mr. B. P. Lumpkin, assistant principal, makes announcements concerning the safety of school buses and drivers. He assists Mr. Morgan in his daily tasks, ranging from signing passports to supervising students.

Principal—Students' Guide and Friend



Mr. Charles H. Morgan, as principal of Park View High School, has many duties and responsibilities. He has charge of over thirty teachers and a student body numbering approximately six hundred, and yet, he manages to have time for additional educational activities.

Before the 1962-63 session began, Mr. Morgan attended the Educational Workshop at Virginia Beach, and served as chairman of the Legislative Committee for the Mecklenburg Educational Association.

In October, Park View's principal served as delegate to the annual Virginia Education Association meeting in Richmond.

Mr. Morgan has attended all principals' conferences held in District "D" and all administrative meetings held in Mecklenburg County this past year.

In June 16-19, he attended the annual principals' conference at Radford College.

At the National Education Association Convention, held in Detroit, Michigan, June 29-July 6, our principal was a part of the Virginia delegation, as the official representative of the Mecklenburg Education Association.

Mr. Morgan received his Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Richmond. He also holds the Virginia State Farmers Honorary Degree conferred for "Interest and Leadership" in the field of agriculture.

In addition to Mr. Morgan's educational activities, he finds time to participate in many church and civic affairs.

CLASSES:

Key to Individuality

Many individual personalities make up the student body at Park View High School. Just as each student is different in personality, so each is different in physical appearance. But each student is important to the success of the school.

The Student Body is made up of five classes, Seniors, Juniors, 10th graders, 9th graders and 8th graders.

The long days of hard work and study are made easier by the presence of friends --studying for tests, struggling to get to class on time with the right book, enjoying good meals, and conversations between classes--each proud to be a part of a good school.

Seniors Plan for College and Careers

Graduation exercises and the culmination of 12 years of work cause the ninety-four graduating seniors to look back over the last five years with fondness of the memories they take with them. Memories of their first day at Park View, the class parties, the Junior-Senior Prom, The Senior Play, "Bull In a China Shop", Class Night, and Graduation.

As they look back, they recall that many of their class have brought honor to themselves, their class, and to Park View. Teddy O'Toole, President of the S.C.A., was elected Governor at Boy's State. Benny Evans was voted the most valuable football player of the year. Patricia Nolen and Benny Evans were recipients of the Citizenship Awards presented by the D.A.R. Juanita Powers was selected Homecoming Queen, and Carolyn Newcomb was crowned "Miss Yearbook" and reigned over the Annual Queen dance. Joyce Nance was manager of the Girls' Basketball Team, and Jane Garland, Sara Nell McBride, and Joyce Duckett were tri-captains of the team. Football tri-captains were Benny Evans, John Taylor and Tommy Leggett; basketball co-captains were Teddy O'Toole and Charles Moseley, while Larry Smith, Benny Evans, and Carl Gude were tri-captains of the baseball team. Patricia Nolen and Jane Garland were co-captains of the cheerleader squad. Joyce Nance and Lacey Gordon were co-editors of the Annual. Charles Reese received the John Phillip Sousa Band Award, and Gay Clark was chairman of the Pep Committee. The "Mr. Future Teacher" award went to Johnny Taylor, and Joyce Nance was named "Miss Future Teacher."

Besides these outstanding events, the seniors will remember all the daily experiences that made them an important part of the school life. These memories will go with them as they begin a new phase of their education and a new chapter in their lives.

Junior Leaders Plan Class Activities

The Class of '63 chose their class officers in September to guide them through the busy year.

Junior sponsors were Mrs. Marie Tucker, Mrs. Annie McLean, Mrs. Virginia Boswell, and Mr. Mac Wilson.

During the year the juniors worked even harder on their scholastic efforts. Many college bound juniors entered the National Merit Scholarship Contest and also took the College Board Examinations for early acceptance decisions.

There was much activity in the sports department. Wade Crutchfield was elected to the All-District football team. Many other junior boys participated in football, basketball, baseball, and track. Junior girls also exercised their sports' ability on the girls' basketball team and on the Varsity Cheerleading Squad.

In March, after many days of waiting the juniors received their class rings.

Eleven representatives were elected by the junior class to attend Girls' State at Radford College and Boys' State at V.P.I. These juniors spent a week in the respective colleges learning about their state government and the responsibilities of good citizenship: Martha Walker, Carol Sue Binford, Betsy Walker, Marvin Piland, Ronnie Moseley, Dwight Phaup, Peyton Smith, Mike Hauenstein, Robert David Cook, Royall Boswell, and Threet Gill.

Marvin Piland was elected most outstanding drum major in Southeastern States at Virginia Beach Music Festival.

On May 11, the juniors presented "Parisian Evening" as the theme of the annual Junior-Senior Prom. This was the most outstanding class project of the year. The Hi-Notes of Petersburg, Virginia, supplied the music for the evening.

Sophomores Choose Capable Leaders

Making plans for their annual class party are the sophomore officers: Donald Bell, president; Linda Ruth Creedle, vice-president; Foy Edmond, secretary; A. C. Wells, treasurer; and Jean Pegram, reporter.

By their Sophomore year, the members of the class of '65 were well on their way to becoming competent leaders of Park View's student body. In September, sophomore officers are selected to lead their class in the activities of the year. Donald Bell was president, while Linda Ruth Creedle was chosen as vice-president; Foy Edmond as secretary; A. C. Wells as treasurer; and Jean Pegram as reporter.

Excitement mounted as sophomores, Linda Nichols and Gloria Crutchfield, represented their class in Homecoming activities.

S.C.A. elections brought added class spirit as candidates were nominated and campaigning began. At the close of a week's hard work and the counting of ballots, the Sophomore class proudly learned that Lyle Lacey was the newly-elected vice-president of the S.C.A. and Gloria Crutchfield had been chosen as S.C.A. reporter.

The highlight of the year for the class of '65 was the class party held in December. With the help of the sponsors, Mrs. Polly Butts, Miss Rebekah Crouch, Mrs. Louise Bryson, and Mr. R. C. Hines, helpful mothers, and industrious students, the class enjoyed a festive evening.

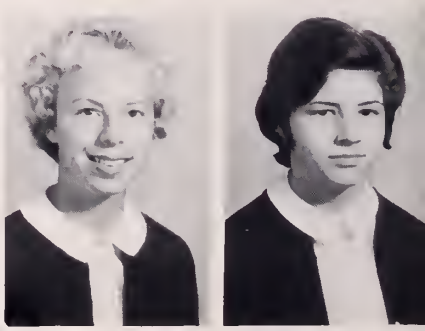
Class of '65 Campaigns in S.C.A. Elections

Pam Yale
Bettie Young



At 8:55 every morning the bell rings and the students of Park View rush to Home Room. During this time, the roll is called, announcements are made, and morning devotions are held. Students and teachers volunteer for this service. Today, Donald Bell takes his turn in leading the morning meditation.

Freshmen Plan for Shamrock Dance

In September, the new Freshmen entered the now familiar halls of Park View. When the first bell of the year rang, the Freshmen reported to their homerooms. Their homeroom teachers and sponsors for the year were Mrs. Nanney, Mrs. Bonney, Mrs. Osborne, Mrs. Dodrill, and Mr. Smith. These sponsors led the class through the year of fun and learning.

The class started the new year by electing Wilson Thompson to preside as president.

The door to sports was open to all Freshmen who wanted to participate. We were proud that we were able to play on junior varsity and varsity teams, and were especially proud of the boys from the Freshman class who helped to lead the J. V. Basketball team to an undefeated season.

The class members found that their studies were very different from their previous year. Latin, Biology, English, Algebra, and other courses were both fascinating and interesting. David Copperfield became a well-known literary figure to the Freshman English classes.

The class party, observing Saint Patrick's Day, was held in the school cafeteria. The queen and king, Mile Coleman and Martha Kimball were crowned. The green and white shamrocks and streamers gave the room an Irish look. All who attended enjoyed the party immensely.

Far too soon the year slipped away, but it left fond memories and knowledge that each member of the class will always cherish.

King and Queen Reign Over Dance

Elected by their classmates, the king and queen of the Shamrocks, Mike Coleman and Martha Blair Kimball lead off the first dance of the evening.

After an evening of fun, the ninth graders pull down decorations to take home as souvenirs of the occasion.

New Members of Student Body

The officers of the eighth grade are: Jerry Davis, president; John Moody, vice-president; Tommy Bennett, secretary; Ashby Armistead, treasurer; Josephine Hendricks, reporter.

The Eighth Grade, newest addition to the P.V.H.S. Student Body, begin their first year by electing class officers. Jerry Davis was elected as the President for the 1962-63 session.

Activities of the Class of '67 included participation in J.V. sports and cheerleading. Cynthia Harris and Pleas Johnson represented their class in the Homecoming activities.

The highlight of the year for the members of the eighth grade was the class party held in February. Valentine Day was used as their theme and Winks Radcliffe was named "King of Hearts" while Cynthia Harris was elected as "Queen of Hearts." With the help of the sponsors, Mrs. Whitten, Mrs. Martin, Mr. Elliott, Mrs. Watson, Mr. Dodrill, and the enthusiasm of the entire class, the party became a fond memory for the class of '67.

Eighth Graders Enjoy First Class Party

In the gaily decorated cafeteria, the eighth graders dance to the recorded hit tunes of the day played by Mr. Tubby Walthall.

Principal Charles H. Morgan crowns Winks Radcliff and Cynthia Harris King and Queen of Hearts at the eighth graders' annual Valentine party.

Service with a Smile

The efficient members of the cafeteria staff include: Mrs. Mary Ann Reaves, Mrs. Louise Raines, Mrs. Nell Cobb, and Mrs. Edith Nance.

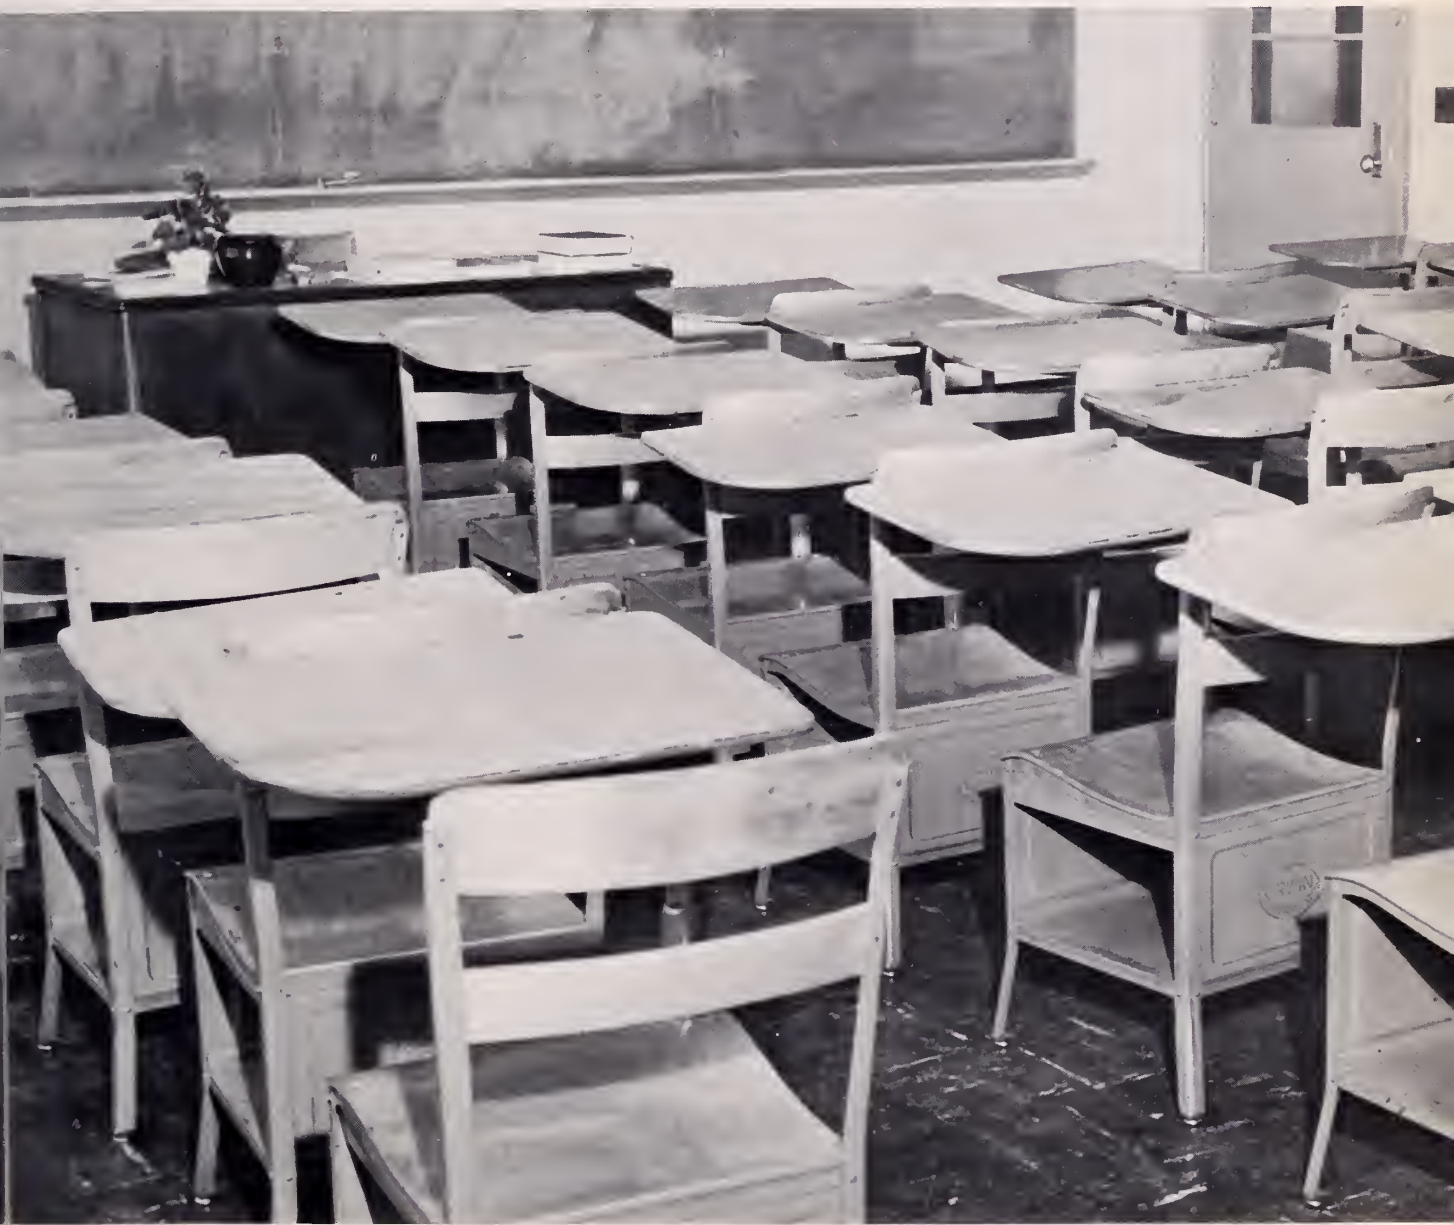
Every day the teachers and students of Park View are provided with a wholesome, well-balanced, hot lunch planned and prepared by an expert cafeteria staff. The minimum cost of a lunch is twenty-five cents. This low rate is due in part to the supplies sent from the government surplus.

The majority of the students and faculty at Park View take part in the lunch program, and the school enjoys the record of having one of the highest participation percentages among high schools in the state.

The hungry students of Park View enjoy a well-balanced and nourishing hot lunch in the school's modern cafeteria. The students are divided into three sections and go through the cafeteria in a continuous flow during fourth period.

CURRICULUM:

Key to Knowledge



The programs of study at Park View are designed to satisfy the state requirements for graduation, and, at the same time, give each student opportunities to choose courses which will best suit him for the college he plans to attend or the vocation he hopes to pursue.

Seven courses of study are offered at Park View. These include the Collegiate Scientific, Collegiate Liberal Arts, Commercial Stenographic, Commercial Clerical, and the General Program with emphasis on Agriculture, Home Economics or Industrial Arts. The curriculum attempts to provide all students with a well-balanced education.

With the help of parents, teachers, and school counselors, each student must decide which course is best for him according to his abilities, interests and future plans, and then take advantage of the excellent educational opportunities offered him.

English Unlocks Door to

Mrs. Butts looks on as Judy Baird, Martha Blair Kimball, and Billy Moseley classify each word in the sentences on the board.

Every student at Park View participates in at least one English class each year he is a student at Park View.

English classes include lessons in grammar, literature, spelling, reading for book reports, and work in the library. Grammar lessons are composed of studies in sentence structure, diagramming sentences, proper usage of words, as well as similar activities. Literature classes are designed to aid the student in the understanding of classical works, and to further the student's desire and ability to read more comprehensively. Spelling exercises help to build good writing habits, a more efficient vocabulary, and a better understanding of our language. Book reports give the student an opportunity to read a book and then explain, in his own words, what it was concerned with and tell his opinion of it. Library periods enable the student to read for his own personal enjoyment, research themes, and discover new and exciting materials on topics which interest the individual student.

All English classes assist the student in bettering himself intellectually, culturally, and mentally.

Mrs. Cliborne reads and explains a story from the eleventh grade English literature book.

Self-Expression and Communication

Mrs. Bryson aids Charles Taylor in an exercise during an English library period, while Betsy Walker and Rachael Smelley work on a project which interests them.

Ann King delivers a book report while her classmates listen carefully.

Foreign Languages Challenge Students

Mrs. Boswell and the Latin I class observe as Hunt Holmes, Betsy Atkins, and Brenda Perkins conjugate Latin verbs.

Enthusiastic Foreign Language students tackled challenging vocabularies and translations in the Latin I, Latin II, French I, and French II Classes.

The Latin I classes, taught by Mrs. Virginia Boswell, find that Latin is the key to understanding English as they study basic constructions and the many facets of Roman life. Latin II students read Julius Caesar's GALLIC WARS in addition to a more detailed study of Roman life and customs.

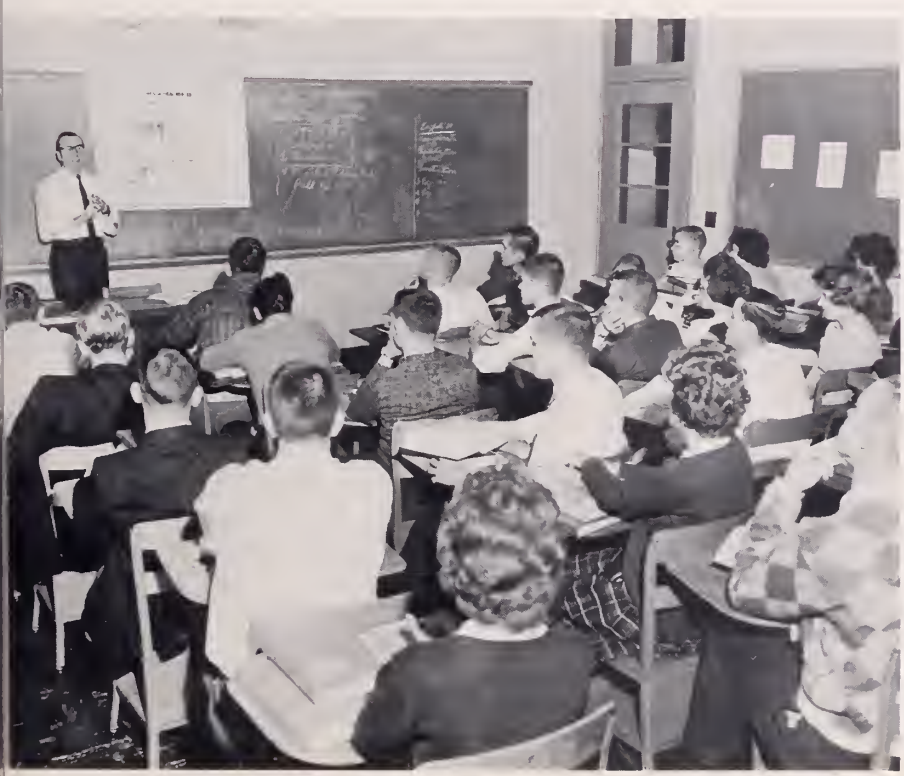
Mrs. Mildred Moseley introduced the first year French students to the basic elements of French grammar and to the culture, history, and life of the French people. In addition to studying the customs and geography of France, the second year French students conduct individual research for projects and are assisted in their studies by a well-equipped language laboratory.

Mrs. Moseley gives French dictation to her French II Class.

Today's Men Profit from Yesterdays Errors

The World History Class under the supervision of Mrs. Gladys Bonney is shown a map of the world by Dickie Mayton and Ann Thomas Gill.

Mr. Bryant P. Lumpkin, Government 12 instructor, explains the national political parties of the United States to his attentive senior class.



American history, world history, world geography, civics, and government were the subjects offered in social studies this year.

These classes are taught by Mr. Fred Smith, Mr. Leo Allen, Mrs. Annie McLean, Mr. B. P. Lumpkin and Mrs. Gladys Bonney.

The basic principals and the growth of the United States are taught in the American history classes.

In the world history classes students were taught the history and customs of the world. Students learn geographic details and the social customs of people throughout the world in world geography.

The classes of civics and government give the students knowledge of the mechanics of our state and national governments.

The Social Studies department and its instructors mold the characters of the young leaders of tomorrow.

Accuracy is Emphasized

Many students were attracted by the varied and informative courses in mathematics, taught by Mrs. Bennett, Mrs. Osborne, and Mr. Dodrill.

Math 8 and 9 introduce the students to the fundamental principles of Algebra and Geometry, as well as giving a review of general mathematics.

Pupils preparing for college struggled through Algebra I and II, which deals with positive and negative numbers, formulas, graphs, and equations; and proceed to Plane and Solid Geometry where they are introduced to propositions concerning two and three dimensional objects.

Other students, aiming at careers in the field of computation, tackled Advanced Algebra and Trigonometry.

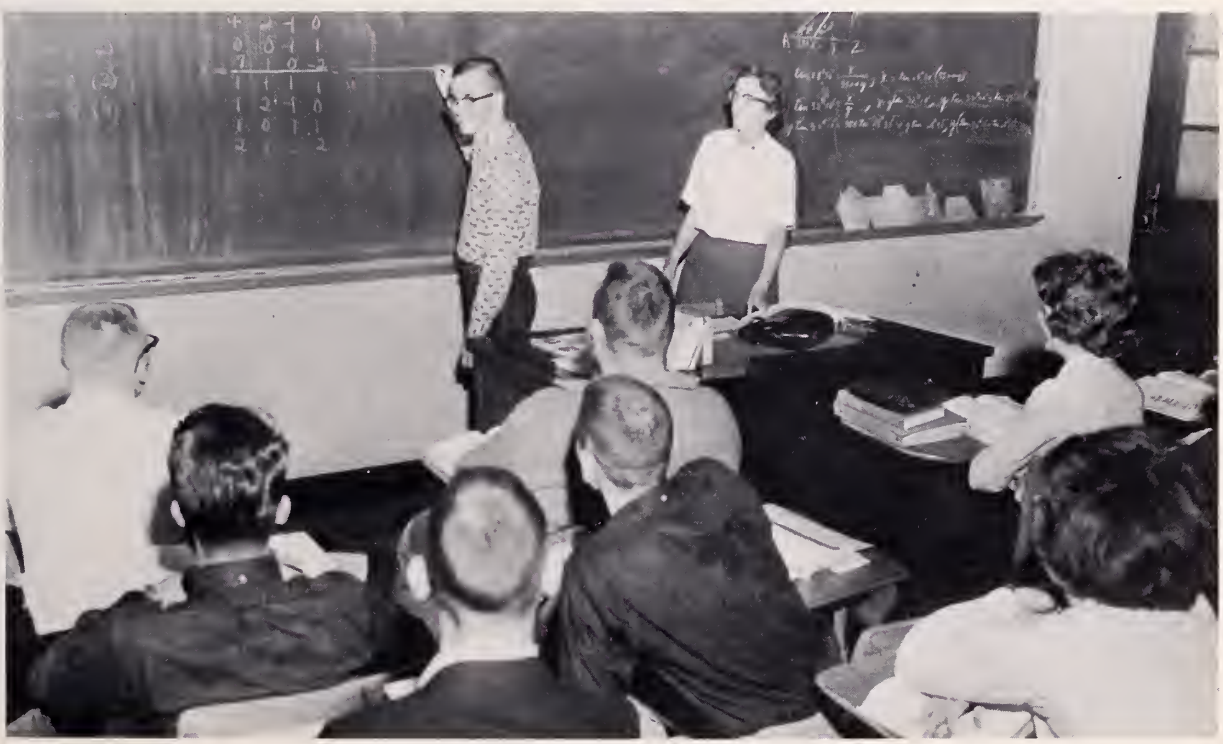
The projects done for the annual School Fair and the interest shown in all these courses was a clear indication that the students realized the importance of mathematics in a modern world.

An eighth grade math class listens as Mr. Dale Dodrill explains the fundamentals of calculating cost, margin, selling price, and per cent of profit.

in Math Courses

Mrs. Louise Osborne and the Plane Geometry class observe as Garland Locks proves a theorem concerning the median of a trapezoid.

Under the supervision of Mrs. Evelyn Bennett, Roy Robinson explains determinants to the members of the Advanced Algebra class.



Key Word in Science

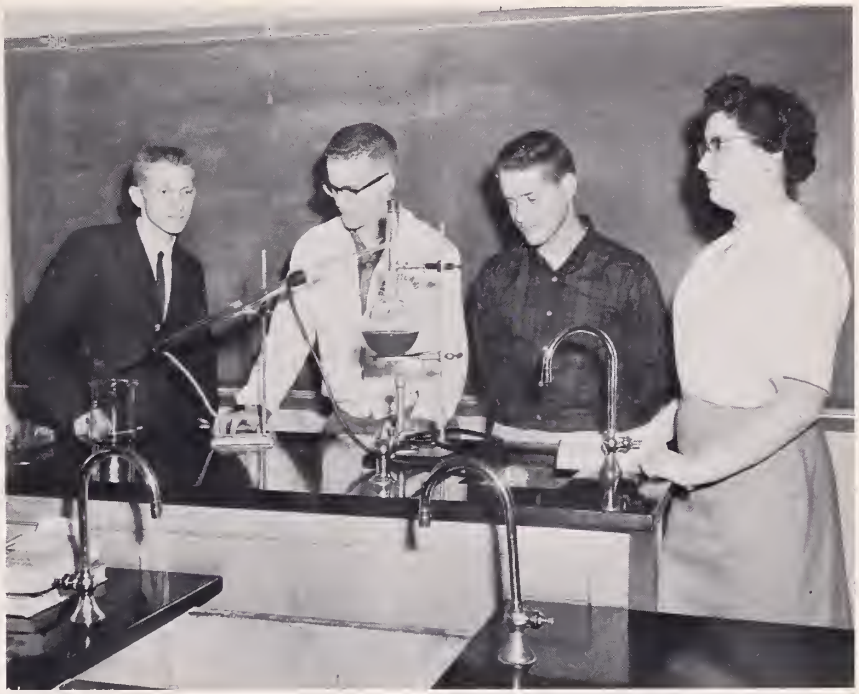
Mrs. Well's first period Science 8 class is intently watching a film on the applications of electricity.

What is an "indefinable term"? What is the "life cycle" of an organism? By taking advantage of the excellent science courses at Park View High School students sought answers to these questions.

The Science Department endeavored to stimulate thought, to develop the scientific attitude, and to encourage experimentation. It inspired students to seek careers in the lucrative field of scientific endeavor and to gain an understanding of the part that science plays in our modern world. Biology students learned through dissection; aspiring chemists launched themselves into laboratory experiments; and physics students found excellent opportunities for scientific advancement in electronics and aeronautics through their School Fair projects.

Carolyn Overton, Thelton Rockwell and Jimmy Puryear are examining a frog which they are about to dissect. By dissecting specimens, biology students are able to see first hand the organs, muscles, and bones which they have studied beforehand.

Courses is Experimentation



The experiment demonstrating the distillation of water is performed by Joe Odom, Melvin Cage, and Charles Taylor. Mrs. Wells, the chemistry teacher, is supervising the experiment.

Library is Tool of Research

Miss Hatch, school librarian, shows Judy Kidd how to use the card catalogue to find the book of her choice. The library contains many current reference books, as well as a large number of fiction and non-fiction publications.

During the school day, as students gather in the library to obtain information, study in quiet, or read for their own enjoyment, they find it to be a place of great convenience. Many types of research materials are available to the student, including numerous sets of encyclopedias, the reader's guides, almanacs, magazines, and other reference books on almost every subject. The students use the card catalogue to make easier the job of locating a book.

As the student reads for pleasure, he finds all types of magazines, and hundreds of fiction and non-fiction works.

Students make use of the library facilities both during study hall and during their English classes.

Girls and Boys Master Athletic Skills

The first period physical education class, taught by Mrs. Estelle Lumpkin, enjoys the sport of trying to pull each other off balance in a "tug of war".

The Physical Education Department, headed by Mr. Harold Wise, Mr. Leo Allen, and Mrs. Estelle Lumpkin, strives to teach good attitudes and habits for the wholesome use of leisure time as well as the development of skills required to participate in sports.

Students in the physical education program play such team sports as basketball, football, softball, baseball, and volleyball. Classroom activities also include body conditioning exercises, endurance tests, and rhythmical activities.

Park View also offers classroom instruction in driver education, health and first aid as a part of its physical education program.

It's all hands as the boys go for the rebound in a class basketball game. Jimmy Smelley fights to keep the ball as Charles Taylor and Malcolm Leonard try for it.

Music and Art Provide

The Park View Chorus, under the direction of Miss Rebekah Crouch, maintained a large repertoire of both popular and sacred works which delighted many audiences.

The music classes are open to all students who are eager to learn more about music. The lives and works of famous composers, and music from various periods of history are studied.

The Music Department provided music for P.T.A. Visitation Night, school assemblies, special programs for civic groups, and participated in the annual music festival held in Richmond.

The year's activities were completed by performing for Baccalaureate and Graduation Exercises.

Miss Crouch gives five All-State Chorus Members a final rehearsal. They are: Judy Carter, Brenda McClintock, Carolyn Estes, Judy Snead, and Carol Evans.

Cultural Values and Appreciation

Art instructor, Mrs. Bertha Watson gives Art II students the fundamentals of good art composition and color. The development of color and original composition help the students become better artists, as well as informed art critics.

Park View's Art Department, under the supervision of Mrs. Bertha Watson, introduces the fine arts to beginning art students and formulates the talents of the advance students.

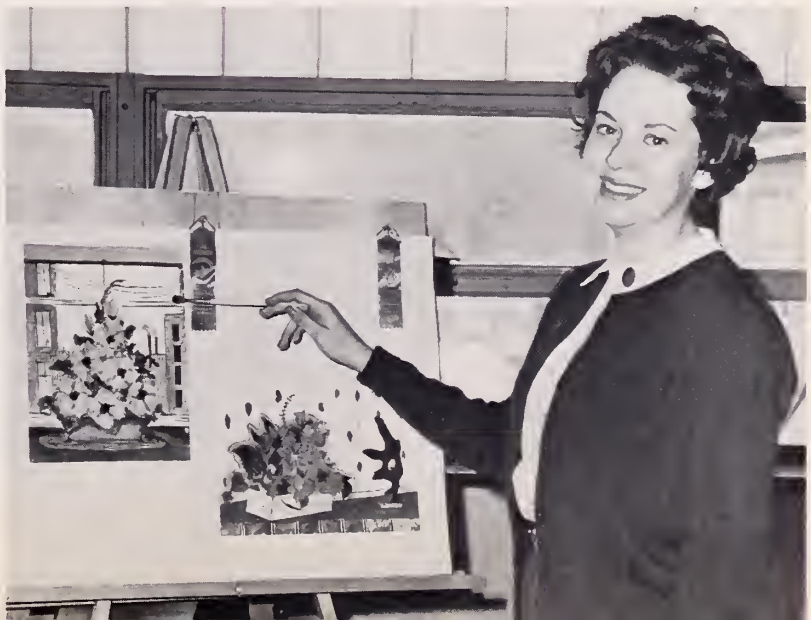
First year art classes begin with mediums in water color, pastels, ceramics, pen and ink, free hand sketching, and progress to advanced creative work in second year art.

Students in the art department have won an impressive list of honors, prizes and recognitions in local and state competitions. Many have had paintings exhibited in the local communities.

Second year students, for their yearly project, painted abstract, impressionistic and realistic murals, for the walls along the corridor.

Emphasis is placed on creative abilities as Mrs. Watson helps each student express his individual talents.

Advanced students in the Park View art department attain a high degree of proficiency as creative artists; frequently leaving Park View to study in art schools in Virginia as well as in other states.



Art student, Patricia Nolen, exhibits "blue ribbon" works of fellow students, Betsy Taylor and Mike Martin. Water colors rendered in pen and ink, were "show stoppers" in school and county fair exhibits.

Commercial Department Prepares

Time Is The Essence! -- Mrs. Dodrill keeps an eye on her stopwatch as her students do a timed writing. Members of the class include: Earl Ezell, Christine Crutchfield, Janice Davis, Jean Pegram, Woodford Daves, Thelton Rockwell, Benny Dalton, Donald Bell, and Tommy Dunn.

Finish Those Practice Sets! -- Mrs. Dodrill watches Phyllis Pearce as she prepares her practice set. Other members of the Bookkeeping class include Kitty Lewis, Mary Lucy Sadler, Betty Ashworth, Linda Cliborne, Cynthia Weaver, Susan Forbes, and Joe Odom.

Future Business Leaders

Mr. Wilson explains to his Economics class the business cycle which includes prosperity, recession, depression, and recovery.

Park View has a large and well-coordinated commercial department. The students who take the courses offered are well-trained in the field of business administration, and they are ready to take their places in the business world when they have completed their studies. Some of the subjects taught by Mr. Mac Wilson, Mrs. Marie Tucker, and Mrs. Lula Belle Dodrill are typing, shorthand, business law, economics, bookkeeping, transcription, and office practice.

As well as for professional purposes, many students sought to acquire business skills for personal use.

Home Economics Prepares Future Homemakers

Among other things, the home economic girls at Park View learn the way to serve meals properly and tastefully. Along with this part of the course, they study table manners.

Making a bed correctly is part of what these future homemakers must learn. Here Linda Faye Ryland, Nita Montague, Jo Ann Cage and Marie Parrish show their skill while Mrs. Whitten supervises.

The girls in home economics classes at Park View are under the skillful instruction of Mrs. Ruth Martin and Mrs. Frances Whitten.

Home economics emphasizes such skills as cooking, sewing, wise purchasing habits, caring for children, getting along with people, and the budgeting of time, money, and energy. It also teaches the importance of good citizenship and of taking an active part in social and civic affairs.

Vocational Students Master Useful Skills

Mr. Elliott demonstrates the techniques of welding to Bobby Matthews, Tommy Cage, Nelson Tolbert, and John Moody.

The Vocational Agriculture classes offer training to students in types of soils, crops, fertilizers and farm machinery. Each student raises his own crops at home and keeps careful records of his work.

Boys taking Industrial Arts learn to manipulate saws, hammers, and nails as they make many beautiful and useful articles. In their classes they learn types of measurements, kinds of wood, and other valuable facts which form the ground work for good carpentering.

Mechanical Drawing students learn to use drawing boards, French curves, T-squares, compasses and triangles to draw views of objects to scale. As part of their class activities each student submitted an original plan for a Park View High School sign.

Journalism Develops Art of Creative Writing

Student reporters, Lacey Gordon, Helen Stone, Robert Downey, Sara Nell McBride, Johnny Taylor, Patricia Nolen, and Pat Lloyd prepare news of Park View activities, as Mrs. McBride supervises.

Gathering and reporting Park View news is the responsibility of Park View's Journalism Department. Under the supervision of Mrs. Sara McBride, the students learn first hand the techniques of newspaper work.

Each student is assigned articles for publication in the SOUTH HILL ENTERPRISE and weekly work sheets from the journalism textbook.

Work in journalism helps the student in his creative writing, school paper, and yearbook participation, and helps him understand the purpose and need of news reporting.

Mrs. McBride points out fundamentals of news writing to students, Helen Stone and Sara Nell McBride.

School Fair Demonstrates Results of Year's Work

Projects of the French I and II and Latin I and II students make up the Foreign Language display of the fair.

Park View's principal, C. H. Morgan, art instructor, Mrs. Bertha Watson, and one of her aspiring young artists, Patricia Nolen, study the composition of various works.

The successful launching of Park View's own SATURN brings glory to Physics students: Tommy Leggett, Benny Evans, and Johnny Taylor.

Each year the May meeting of the Park View Parent-Teacher Association takes place in the form of a school fair. At this time parents and friends gather to view the results of one year of hard work by the students in each of the various departments.

Mrs. Barbara Nanney, a Biology instructor, puts the final touch on her exhibit.

Visible results of students' work in United States, Virginia, and World History, World Geography, Civics, and Government are displayed.

Bus Drivers Provide Safe Transportation

Park View has an ever-dependable crew of bus drivers who transport hundreds of students to and from school every day. KNEELING: Vernon Newman, Johnny Smiley, Bill Bowers, Billy Upton, Jimmy Puryear, Jackie Robinson. STANDING: Mr. Sterling Tanner, maintenance; Herbert Kinker, Allen Tudor, Junior Blue, Robert Bennett, Charles Wright, Jo Jo Tanner, Johnny Warren, Mr. B. P. Lumpkin, Bus supervisor for Park View.

Among his many duties as school custodian, Mr. Sterling Tanner is in charge of the "fix-it" department. He always answers to the emergency call of two short rings of the bell.

The majority of the six hundred students of Park View ride school buses provided by the county. As it is a consolidated high school, many of the people who attend have to come long distances, and they are glad to make use of this facility. They depend upon the skill and caution of the bus drivers to get them home safely and quickly.

The boys who drive the buses are carefully chosen and trained for they have a tremendous responsibility. Mr. Bryant P. Lumpkin, assistant principal, has charge of the buses assigned to Park View, and Mr. Sterling Tanner keeps them in excellent running condition. Park View is proud of the fine record of safe driving set by its bus drivers.

CLUBS:

Key to Leadership and Service

To encourage participation in its activity program, Park View High School offers its students two publications, an honorary society, and fifteen other clubs and organizations. There is an organization to interest nearly every student, each offering opportunities for leadership, service, education and fellowship.

Student Body Led by Outstanding Council

The S.C.A. Council consists of the officers of the S.C.A. and representatives from each class. The Council helps to promote a better understanding between the students and faculty.

Many events at Park View are sponsored by the S.C.A. It has charge of the morning devotions, the hall monitor system, and the variety show each year. Members of the Council attended a forum at Thomas Jefferson High School in February.

Every student is a member of this association working closely with the Council at all times.

Officers of the Beta Club are as follows: William Jackson, Pres.; Marvin Piland, Vice-Pres.; Betty Creedle, Secretary; Dwight Phaup, Treasurer; Jane Garland, Reporter; Ann Thomas Gill, Historian.

The Beta Club is a leadership-service organization at Park View.

To be a member of this honor club, a student must have at least a "B" average on all subjects including citizenship.

Beta stands for fellowship, leadership, and character. Beta serves as a guide to prepare its members for the responsibility of the future.

This past March, fifteen Beta members attended the Beta Convention in Richmond. These delegates returned with many helpful suggestions which will make the club an even brighter "beacon in the night."

Beta Rewards Outstanding Achievements

F.T.A. Promotes Interest in Teaching

The essential Purpose of the F.T.A. is to promote the teaching profession. Every year the F.T.A. bestows upon one of the senior members the honor of "Miss Future Teacher." Along with this title, a scholarship is given by the club. The money for this scholarship is obtained by the members by carrying on such projects as preparing and selling refreshments at the variety show and selling candy. Other club projects are teaching, as well as observing classes, at Park View and South Hill Elementary, and conducting morning devotions.

Marvin Piland, Betsy Walker, and Scott Johnson, all delegates to the annual state F.T.A. Convention at Roanoke, Virginia, demonstrate some of the ideas used by the three-some at the convention, where Marvin successfully ran for the office of Member-at-large. Marvin and Scott display a poster, while Betsy holds a "drum-major" type bear, which was the mascot of their campaign.

As member-at-large, Marvin is a member of the state F.T.A. executive council.

Officers of the Future Teachers of America Club, Park View Chapter, are as follows: SEATED: Marvin Piland, vice-president; Jane Garland, president; Courtney Adams, secretary. STANDING: Betsy Walker, historian; Ben Brown, parliamentarian; Scott Johnson, reporter; Linda Moore, song leader; Martha Walker, librarian; Joyce Nance, treasurer.

The officers of the Monogram Club are: Tommy Leggett, president; Benny Evans, vice-president; Patricia Nolen, secretary-treasurer; and Johnny Taylor, reporter (not pictured).

The Monogram Club is composed of 45 athletically inclined students. To become a member the student must have lettered in at least one varsity sport or in cheerleading. The role of an athlete is one of both hard work and determination. He must spend many hours training for physical and mental strength, speed and skill.

In addition to receiving their letters, the boys receive Park View jackets. The girls receive gold basketballs on chains for participating in varsity basketball, and varsity cheerleaders receive gold megaphones.

As a fund raising project, the Monogram Club operates a concession stand during football and basketball seasons. They sponsor the annual Homecoming events, and the dance which follows the football game.

The highlight of the year is the Monogram Club picnic held each spring, which climaxes the club activities for the year.

Monogram Club Boosts School Spirit

Latina Semper—

The members of the Junior Latin Club are students taking the first year Latin course. Club programs and activities strive to introduce the pupil to the many facets of Roman influence upon our civilization, and to give him a better understanding of Rome's contributions to our culture in the fields of law, architecture, literature, and engineering. Tapes of famous mythological love stories like Cupid and Psyche as well as talks on Roman mythology made by individual students add to the interest of the programs.

Latin Always

Second year Latin Students are members of the Senior Latin Club. As a part of their club activities, individual students present programs shown to increase knowledge and to help students make use of what they have learned in class. Contests on Roman gods and goddesses have helped to make programs both interesting and entertaining.

Climaxing the year's activities is the annual Latin Banquet. At this time members of both clubs dress in Roman Costumes, enjoy Latin skits, sing Latin songs, and eat the foods listed in Latin which the ancient Romans served at their banquets.

Chorus Wins All-State Honors

Eighth-grade students were introduced to the music of the world's great composers in Miss Rebekah Crouch's fourth period Choral Music Class. The members of this class formed a Mixed Chorus and performed at assemblies and other school functions.

The first period choral class was composed of girls who were interested in all the aspects of music. They formed a Girls' Glee Club and gave performances for school activities and civic groups.

Art Club Develops Creative Abilities

The Art Club officers are seated in front of an attractive bulletin board of fashions. These have been drawn by some of the members in their class work. Mrs. Watson is explaining one of her student's work to the Art Club officers, who listen very attentively. The officers of the Art Club are: Sarah Newman, president; Betty Jean Puryear, vice-president; Lois Hendrick, secretary; Juanita Newman, treasurer; and Ronald Brummitt, reporter.

The students of Park View appreciate their school more because of the beautiful art work in it. Most of this is done by the hard work of the Art Club. This is a very active organization consisting of both present and former art students.

The purpose of the Art Club is to provide additional art experiences and knowledge for advanced art students, and to give former art students a continued contact with the world of art.

Each meeting of the Art Club consists of a very interesting and informative program. The year's programs have included many talks and exhibits by outstanding regional artists. Art Club members participated in actual art work at their meetings. Field trips also helped to round out the year as well as further the members' appreciation of good art.

The members of the Art Club assist in the outside needs of art work in our school. The Art Club has sponsored a showing of the Artmobile and assisted on this visit.

We have all heard the old saying, "one picture is worth a thousand words", and the members of the Art Club certainly help it live on.

Family Life for All

The Park View Future Homemakers of America is a club composed of girls taking home economics and those interested in the activities of this club. Their main purpose is to promote a growing appreciation of the joys and satisfaction of homemaking.

The Park View Chapter is a member of the Twin County Federation, composed of Bluestone, Park View, and Victoria High Schools. It is also a member of the state and national organizations.

The F.H.A. Club selects two objectives each year. The present ones are contributing to the joys and satisfaction of family living, and strengthening international relations by getting to know our neighbors at home and abroad. On the basis of these objectives, the club plans their programs and projects.

Each year the Park View F.H.A. displays an exhibit at the county fair. For the past two years, each exhibit has won a blue ribbon.

At the annual school fair, the home economics classes exhibit clothes made during the year and serve refreshments made in class to the parents and friends attending the fair.

After these different projects, the members hope that they will make the homes of tomorrow a better place in which to live as they realize that they are the future homemakers and mothers of tomorrow.

Library Club Members Gain

Billy Taylor, Pam Yale and Lewis Paynter perform one of the many tasks necessary in a library, that of returning to the shelves borrowed books.

Theresa Jones files the cards from borrowed library books, While working at the desk she also checks books in and out.

The Junior Library Club officers SEATED are: Billy Taylor, president; Strata Faddis, vice-president. STANDING: Linda Nichols, treasurer; Pam Yale, reporter; Marsha Moody, secretary.

Experience as Librarians

The Senior Library Club officers helping in the library are: Jo Jo Tanner, vice-president; Helen Stone, president; Foy Edmond, treasurer; Joe Ballard, reporter; Joyce Reese, secretary.

The Library Clubs of Park View perform many necessary and helpful tasks in the library throughout the school year. They help the librarian, Miss Delphine Hatch, check borrowed books in and out, putting these books back in their proper places, as well as help keep them repaired. They also help process the many new books that the library receives each year and help to file the old books and magazines. Another of the most useful services of the library club members is to help other students locate books and to teach others how to use the library facilities.

Some of the projects carried out by the library clubs are: serving refreshments to the faculty one day during National Library Week; selling school pennants; giving books to shut-ins and others at special seasons; and holding their annual picnic.

The Senior Library Club members SEATED are: Miss Hatch, sponsor; Helen Stone, JoJo Tanner, Joyce Reese, Foy Edmond, Joe Ballard. Keeping the Park View students informed lies in the hands of the "Park View Review" staff. Staffed by the "news-minded" students, the "Review" is a mirror of Park View life.

Monthly, the newspaper staff thrashes through a ton of rough copy to produce the lightweight publication familiar to all students of the school.

Relating news of interest concerning school activities, sports, "news makers", human interest stories, and timely editorials, the "Park View Review" impressively dominates student thought, but allows for the survival of individual discretion.

Editor Nolen, and assistant editor, Piland, check over material for up-coming issues.

Typists Helen Stone, Scott Johnson, and Juanita Powers, set up the type and layout the pages for the newspaper.

Juanita Powers, reporter, Harvey Powers, production manager, and William Jackson, business manager, "run off the paper".

Leaves of Memory Records 1963

"To record the best of the year, 1962-63" was the goal of the LEAVES OF MEMORY staff, as they strove to capture in pictures and copy the main events of this school year.

The annual staff members were chosen by the faculty on the bases of dependability, industriousness, and scholarship. The staff receives the rewards for their months of hard work each time the yearbook is opened and the memories of the last year unfold before them. Between the covers lie accurate and descriptive accounts of the joys and heartbreaks of the 1962-63 school year.

for P.V.H.S. Students

Co-editors Joyce Nance and Lacey Gordon were chosen by the faculty and approved by the school board. As Editors-in-chief, they have many responsibilities and duties. They allocate and lay out pages, label pictures, write copy and headings, and make staff assignments.

Planning the cost of the yearbook are Sara Nell McBride, business manager; Marvin Piland, assistant business manager; and Mr. Mac Wilson, business advisor. To finance the annual, the business staff sells subscriptions and ads and sponsors an Annual dance. As business manager, Sara Nell McBride lays out the ad pages.

"To Make the Best Better"

Carlo Botazzi, an IFYE student from Italy, gave 4-H members an insight into the lives of the young people in her homeland.

Members of the Park View 4-H Club work together "To Make the Best Better." Under the leadership of Mr. Dean Agee and Mrs. Judy Minter, students who are interested in community and home improvements, undertake such individual projects as clothing care, beef cattle, and meal preparation.

Club members participated in both District and State 4-H Contests. At the State 4-H Contest in Blacksburg, Va., Louise Harper and Betty Lou Kinker won blue ribbons while Susan Forbes won a red ribbon. Other outstanding accomplishments included 4-H All Star Honors which were bestowed upon Louise Harper, Betty Lou Kinker, and Ben Brown.

During the year, 4-H members helped sponsor an IFYE Student who visited in the community for several weeks, taking part in club and home activities.

Band Wins Honors at

The year of the Park View High School Marching Dragons is divided into two sections; marching season and concert season. This year the Marching Dragons began their activities by participating in the second Annual Kiwanis Day Band Muster held in Williamsburg, Virginia, early in September. The band, through their usual hard work, placed 2nd in the competition. The remaining part of marching season was spent in preparing half-time shows for football games and also participation in parades in South Hill, Chase City, Danville, and Clarksville.

In Concert season, emphasis is placed on a completely new style of music. The band, directed by Miss Rebekah Crouch, a graduate of East Carolina College, was honored by a rating of "Excellent" at the District Music Festival. The Spring Concert also proved to be a fine example of the wonderful work they were doing.

On the weekend of June 15-17, the Park View Band traveled to Virginia Beach to participate in a music festival consisting of bands from seven Southern States. This weekend showed that the band was on the way to the top.

The Majorettes, for the first time this year, were divided into two corps, A and B corp. These two corps alternated and each got a chance to participate in marching activities. The Majorettes are a unit that must work with precision and accuracy. Their unique and complicated routines are often the result of many hard hours of labor. The Majorettes always use variety and at different times they are seen twirling flag batons, ribbon batons, and even fire batons.

Marvin Piland, Drum Major, leads the band during its marching season. Each whistle and twirl is a command which is always executed with precision by the band.

Cheerleaders Spur School Spirit

Park View "V" is formed by the Dragonette Cheerleaders: Janice Roberts, Nell Warren, Edith Earle Warren, Garland Locks, Jane Garland, Patricia Nolen, Verna Atkins, Betsy Walker, Kirk Hamlet, and Harriet Hubbard.

Cheerleader Co-captains for 1962-63 are Patricia Nolen and Jane Garland who pose with their sponsor, Mrs. Estelle Lumpkin.

Behind-the-scenes work in sports is the key to the success of the teams. These workers include varsity and junior varsity cheerleaders, the pep club, managers, sponsors, and a highly spirited student body.

The Varsity cheerleading squad put in hours of practice before leading cheers at the games. A loyal student body eagerly responds to their endeavors. The Pep Club, behind leader Gay Clark, keeps the halls full of posters and banners during the week, then joins in the cheering at the game: "We're with you, Team, so fight!"

Members of the Pep Club, decorating the halls before a big football game, are: Pat Lloyd, Harriet Hubbard, Janan Montgomery, JoAnn Copley, Gay Clark, and Joey Santore.

The Park View J.V.'s and their coach, Fred Smith, used three major elements to guide themselves to an undefeated season. The first and most important of these elements was teamwork. The J.V. Dragons also had many strong men, which allowed Coach Smith to use eight or nine men interchangeably. This depth was the second contributing element in the teams' journey to an undefeated season. The third element was the usage of the "West Virginia Press", which proved to be effective in dislodging the J.V.'s opponents' offense.

Not only did the season bring the players and fans a great deal of self-satisfaction, but it also gave the players invaluable experience which will aid them in varsity play.

Second Place Finish in District

Records Fall As Cagers Win School's First Athletic Trophy

The Park View Dragons coached by Mr. Leo Allen bring the school its first athletic trophy in a season with many highlights.

The Dragons, blessed with good coaching, height, and experience employ a man-for-man defense to post a record of 14-3, the best in Park View history.

The season gets off to a flying start with eight straight wins topped off with a 30 point rout of defending champion, Brunswick, on their home court. Brunswick comes back to squeak past Park View in three overtimes on the Dragon's home court.

Only one other loss to Crewe mars the second place regular season finish of 12-2. The Dragons enter the district tournament at Hampden Sydney College and march past Randolph-Henry 71-47 and Crewe 67-36 into the championship game with Brunswick. The Bulldogs edge the Dragons by five points and go on to finish second in the State Group II Tournament at Blacksburg.

Co-captain Teddy O'Toole, an all state nominee, an all district and all tournament team selection, leads the district in scoring and is ninth in the state with a 21 point average. Co-captain Charles Moseley is an all district honorable mention and makes the all tournament team. Tommy Leggett the Dragon playmaker is outstanding in his ball handling and all around defensive play. John Taylor stars at center with his strong rebounding and all the Dragons contribute their best toward the team efforts.

Dragonettes Work Toward Skill and Sportsmanship

Tri-captains for the 1962-63 Dragonettes are: Joyce Duckett, Sara Nell McBride, and Jane Garland.

Simple hard work and the coaching of Mrs. Estelle Lumpkin enabled the Dragonettes to compile a 5-5 record for 1962-63. Kenbridge defeated the Dragonettes in the season opener, but the girls then defeated Victoria, Emporia, and Randolph-Henry. A one-point loss to Brunswick, a loss to Blackstone, and a win over Crewe set the stage for an overtime loss to Buckingham. A squeaker with Bluestone and a win over Amelia clinched the season.

Baseball—Season of Thrills

Park View's athletic prowess, diamond wise, is not so successful as its court warfare. Coached by Mr. Fred Smith, the Dragon's lose two games to Brunswick and Randolph-Henry for their first win of the season. But they are to taste defeat again as they drop games to Kenbridge, Bluestone, and Brunswick. Two wins over Blackstone and Emporia, and another loss to Emporia bring the Dragons' season to a close with a 3-8 record.

Key to Well-Rounded Lives

Over and over the most memorable occasions of high school life are relived--the dancing at Homecoming, the crowning of "Miss Yearbook", the Senior Play, the Jr.-Sr. Prom, Boys' and Girls' State, the selection of "Mr. and Miss Future Teacher", the band parades and concerts, the last assembly for the Seniors, Class Night, Baccalaureate and Graduation.

A radiant Homecoming Queen, Juanita Powers, reigned over the Homecoming festivities.

Football season at Park View High is highlighted by the gay and colorful festivities of Homecoming. This special Friday night is dedicated to honoring alumni students.

Juanita Powers, a senior, was chosen by the student body of Park View to reign as Homecoming Queen. She and her attendants are presented at half-time and preside over the dance following the game. The Dragons helped make this a spectacular night by defeating the Statesmen of Randolph-Henry.

The highlight of the activities was the crowning of the Homecoming Queen, Juanita Powers, by Principal Charles H. Morgan. Teddy O'Toole, SCA President, as the Homecoming attendants look on.

This year the students chose as "Miss Yearbook", Carolyn Newcomb, who was crowned at the Yearbook Dance by Mr. Charles H. Morgan, principal.

F.T.A. Selects "Future Teachers"

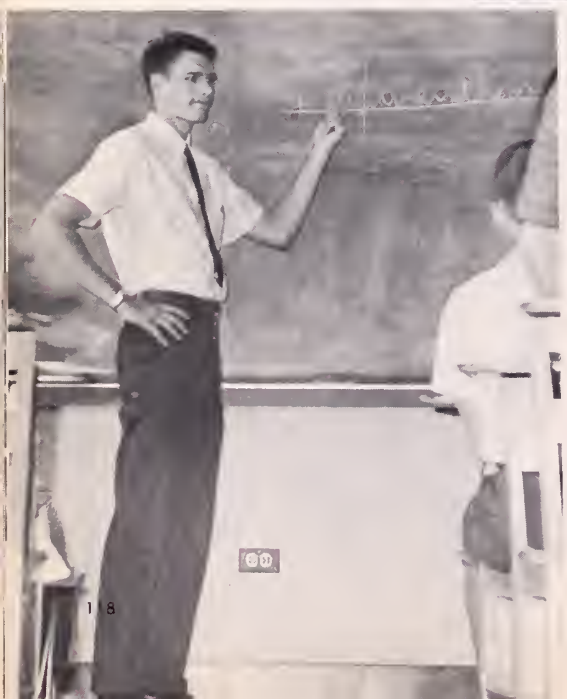
Joyce Nance and Johnny Taylor are crowned Miss and Mr. Future Teacher at the annual Club Picnic.

Each year, the senior members of the F.T.A. are given the opportunity to observe teaching techniques, discipline, and methods. They visit classes at the South Hill Elementary School for a day. Then they observe classes of their interest at Park View. After two days of observation, the student teachers take charge of the class, under supervision, for three days.

The high points of the year's activities are electing "Miss Future Teacher" and awarding her a fifty dollar book scholarship. All senior members are nominees and voting is done by secret ballot. At the annual spring picnic, Joyce Nance was announced winner and was crowned "Miss Future Teacher". This year a "Mr. Future Teacher" was chosen also. Johnny Taylor received this award and scholarship of the same amount.

Very involved in extra-curricular activities, Joyce and Johnny have a busy school life.

Johnny gains valuable experience as he substitutes in one of Mrs. Butts's English Classes.



Joyce does research work in the library as she plans a lesson for an English class during her week of student teaching.

O'Toole Elected Governor of Boy's State

Each year, the American Legion sponsors a Virginia Boys' State held at V.P.I., and the American Legion Ladies Auxiliary sponsors a Girls' State held at Radford in order to teach young people the ways and means of the American form of government. In 1962, Park View sent twelve delegates, four girls and eight boys. These students were elected by their class from a list approved by the faculty. These students were selected on the basis of character, integrity, and leadership.

The delegates proved themselves worthy of their classmates' votes, for they brought honor and fame home with them. All of the representatives were elected to office in their cities and states. Teddy O'Toole brought special fame to Park View when he became the first governor of Boys' State to be elected on an independent ticket. Teddy also received the greatest number of votes in the history of boys' State. Benny Evans also received honor when he was chosen as one of the twelve outstanding citizens of Boys' State.

Teddy O'Toole was the first governor of Virginia Boys' State to be elected on an independent ticket.

Seniors Portray Old Maids and Miss Elizabeth peers through binoculars at Detective O'Finn as the other old maids anxiously await her detailed description.

While enjoying their afternoon tea, the spinsters discuss plans to lure idol O'Finn into their house.

"Bull in a China Shop" proved to be one of the highlights of the 1962-63 school year. The seniors displayed another of their many and varied talents as they swept into the hilarious production.

A scatter-brained group of ancient spinsters fall desperately in love with handsome Detective, Dennis O'Finn. In order to get him over to their house, one of them murders a member of their happy little group. O'Finn investigates, but finding no real proof, he abandons this case and another old lady is disposed of. This gets results, but in the form of a glamorous reporter, Jane Rogers, who attempts to trap O'Finn into marriage. One side-splitting espisode after another finally leads detectives O'Finn and Kramer to the solution of the puzzling case.

Homicide Detective O'Finn gives the facts about the strange murder at a boarding house for old ladies to his assistant, Kramer.

Detectives in "Bull in a China Shop"

As the curtain goes up the last time the stagestruck cast takes a final bow: Mrs. Mildred Moseley, Miss Rebekah Crouch, directors; Joe Ballard, Johnny Taylor, Sara Nell McBride, Betty Lou Kinker, Joey Santore, Joyce Ann Duckett, Harriet Hubbard, Gay Clark, Carol Lee, Ben Brown, and Mrs. Barbara Nanney, director.

CAST OF CHARACTERS

As Miss Birdie fulfills her famous promise of "Oh! I think I'm going to swoon!", Miss Lucy anxiously watches O'Finn's attempts to revive her.

The old maids hide their eyes while one of them puts poison in a cup of tea intended for Miss Rogers.

Pleased at O'Finn's visit, the spinsters proudly show him and Kramer the dead Miss Elizabeth.

Junior-Senior

Sponsors of the Junior Class wait in front of the Arc de Triumph to greet the long line of Prom-goers as they enter the beautiful ballroom for an evening of fun and frolic.

As the evening gets underway, couples dance in a Parisian atmosphere to the dreamy music of the Hi-Notes.

After many hours of preparation and a final week of hard work, the night of the long awaited Junior-Senior Prom finally arrives. The Class of 1964 issues invitations to the Senior Class and the faculty to attend a "Parisian Evening" with them on May 11th.

As they arrive at Park View High School for the climax to the year's social events, they approach the Arc de Triumph through which they enter the ballroom. Inside the guests are greeted by a Parisian artist who presents them with the program for the evening.

The hundreds of blue and white streamers swirl forth on either side of the ballroom and meet the star-lit sky. In the corner of the Parisian square, stands the Eiffel Tower. Adjacent to the tower, a canopy covers the sidewalk cafes, where guests enjoy PETITS FOURS, NOIX, PUNCH ROUGE, and sandwiches AU POULET ET AN FROMAGE.

"The Last Time I Saw Paris" is the opening theme of the Dance Orchestra, the Hi-Notes of Petersburg, and the strands of "Good Night Ladies" brings to a close a wonderful evening in "gay Paree".

A Parisian artist greets the guests with a program of the evening and a smile.

Prom Features "Parisian Evening"

Couples whirl and turn as the band plays melodies straight from Paris.

Thousands of bits of confetti swirling over everyone express the gaiety of the evening.

As the evening draws to a close, the tired but happy party-goers gaze dismally at the littered rubbish that was once part of the beautiful Parisian square.

Students Rewarded for

Billy Vaughan answers questions on WRNL's Scholarship Quiz Program.

Park View was brought honor by some of its students.

Billy Vaughan was chosen to represent this area of the state on a Scholarship Quiz Program sponsored by WRNL. He placed second.

The question for the Debate team was "Resolved: That the United States should promote a Common Market in the Western Hemisphere". Harvey Powers and Dwight Phaup, the negative team, won first place in the District Meet at Randolph-Henry High School. They traveled to the University of Virginia to compete in the state contest.

Band members all over Virginia try out in December to become a part of the All-State Band. They are judged on their musical abilities. The chosen members meet in February to present a concert.

The forensic team traveled to Buckingham High School to participate in the district meet. Mike Welker placed first in boy's poetry reading. Eric Millirons and Gloria Griggs both placed third in public speaking.

The debate team is composed of: SEATED: Eric Millirons, alternate; Harvey Powers, negative; Dwight Phaup, negative. STANDING: Robert Downey, alternate; Teddy O'Toole, affirmative; Billy Vaughan, affirmative.

Outstanding Achievements

Mike Welker, Martha Walker, Linda Moore, Charles Reese, Robert Elliott, Joe Harris, and Judy Cliborne were chosen as members of the All-State Band.

The forensic team consisted of Eric Millirons, boy's public speaking; Gloria Griggs, girl's public speaking; Mike Welker, boy's poetry reading; Betsy Walker, girl's prose reading; Faye George, girl's poetry reading; Billy Taylor, boy's prose reading; Christine Crutchfield, spelling; Joyce Nance, spelling.

Seniors Attend Last School Assembly

Students file in for the last assembly of the school year.

Mr. C. H. Morgan is presenting Danny Keeling a certificate for perfect attendance throughout the year.

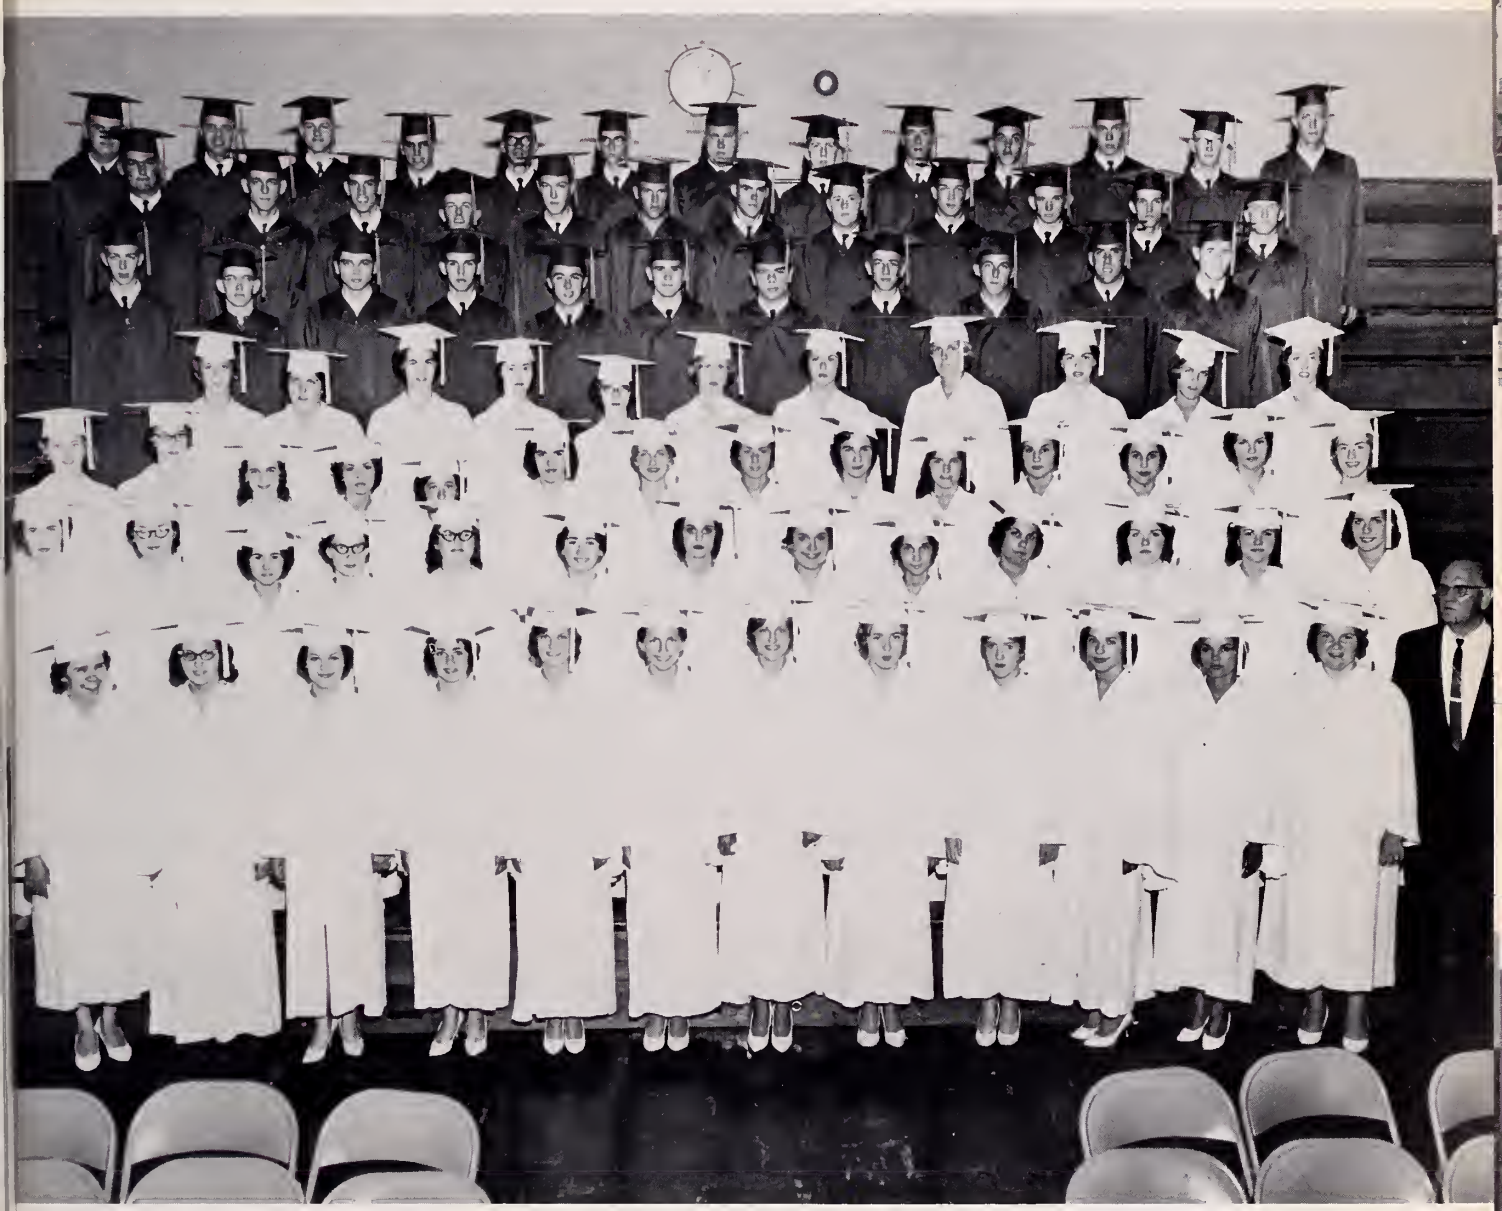
The last assembly of the year is for the presentation of awards. Over one hundred students received perfect attendance certificates for being neither absent nor tardy during the entire school year.

Mr. Wise, Mr. Allen, and Mr. Smith, the coaches, presented athletic awards to the deserving players in football, basketball, and baseball. Mrs. Estelle Lumpkin gave out the girls' sports awards. These consisted of girls basketball and varsity cheerleading.

The other presentations were the safe driving awards and scholarship grants. Joyce Nance and Teddy O'Toole and William Jackson received a copy of I DARE YOU as a reward for being the three top students in the senior class.

GRADUATION:

Key to Preparation



A twelve-year chapter in the life of a senior is closed when he receives his diploma. Pensively, he looks back over years of studying, learning, and hoping for the day when he will be independent. He looks forward to the responsibilities he must assume. For just a moment, he stands afraid, but then he steps ahead for he is reassured by the thought that the future belongs to him.

Leaves of Memory Provides Theme for Class Night

Herman and Katy discuss their high school years at Park View.

The title of the annual served as the theme of class night for the class of '63. William Jackson, chairman of class night, saw that the skit went off in perfect form. Ben Brown and Pat Lloyd portrayed the roles of Herman and Katy Shagnasty.

While they reminisced about their senior year, members of the "top ten" of the class of '63 stepped from the pages of memory, and delivered the last will and testament, prophecy, history, poem, and gifts.

The Class history is given by Betty Creedle.

Edna Earle Matthews reads the Last Will and Testament.

The prophecy is given by Jane Garland.

Roy Robinson reads the class poem.

The principal, Mr. Charles H. Morgan, and the senior sponsors, Mrs. Moseley, Mrs. Wells, and Mrs. McBride receive their gifts from the class. They were presented by Helen Stone and Lacey Gordon, class giftorians.

Mr. Cole Delivers Baccalaureate Sermon

On the evening of June 2, the Baccalaureate sermon was delivered by the Reverend Samuel S. Cole. The Reverend Robert D. Birch gave the invocation and the scripture reading.

"O Jesus, So Sweet" and "Lord, Make Me An Instrument of Thy Peace" were sung by the girls' chorus.

Billy Taylor, Betsy Walker, and Marvin Piland, SEATED, presided as marshals for the class of '63. STANDING: Gloria Griggs, Rachel Smelley, Betty Copley, Dwight Phaup, Phyllis Pierce, Judy Creedle, Mary Cabell Estes, Carol Walker serve as ushers for the graduation ceremonies.

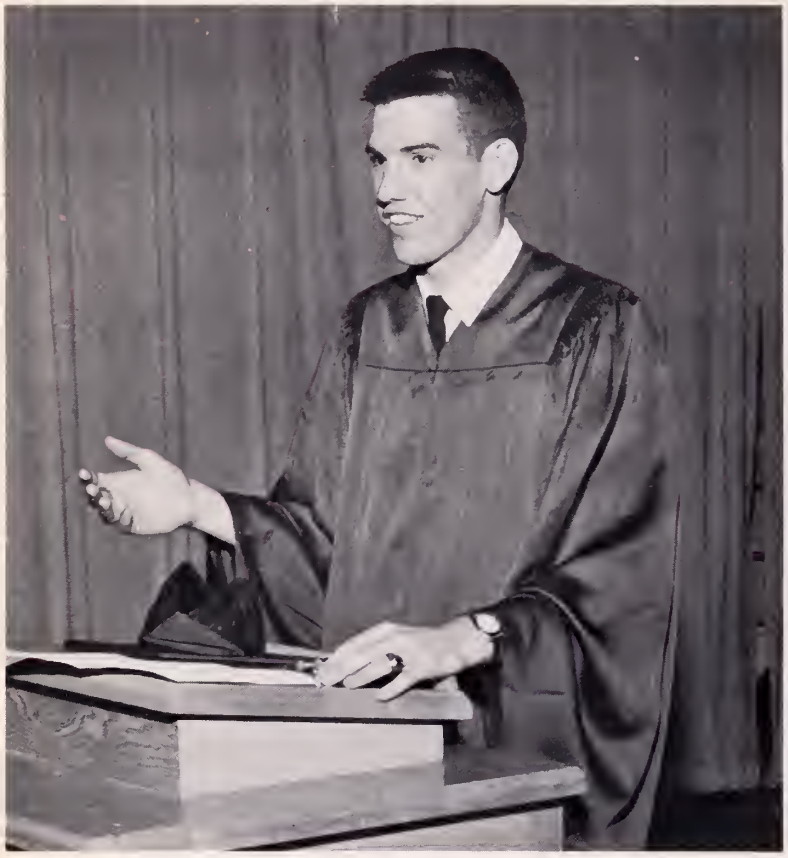
Seniors Speak on Understanding



"Dignity through Understanding" is the topic for Teddy O'Toole, one of the speakers chosen by the Senior Class. Teddy explained the theme, "Understanding: Key to the Future".

Joyce Nance, the second student speaker, states that understanding is necessary for joy, in her speech, "Joy through Understanding."

"Understanding: Key to the Future" was chosen as the theme for the Commencement Exercises of 1963. Teddy O'Toole in his speech, "Dignity Through Understanding," introduced the theme and expressed the courage and nobility gained by man by understanding himself and the world around him. Joyce Nance told of the deep sense of satisfaction and happiness gained by understanding in her speech, "Joy through Understanding". Understanding was presented as a means to world peace by Mr. A. Gordon Brooks, Director of Teacher Education in the Virginia Department of Education, in the main address, "Peace Through Understanding".

Seniors Receive Diplomas!

Seniors spend the last few days before graduation practicing for Baccalaureate and Graduation Exercises.

On June 6, 1963, ninety-four seniors, led by marshals Betsy Walker, Marvin Piland, and Billy Taylor, Marched down the aisle to the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance." Reverend William P. Watkins, Jr., minister of the South Hill Methodist Church, delivers the invocation, which is followed by the student graduation speakers. The Park View Girls' Chorus rendered "America, Our Heritage." Mr. A. B. Haga then introduced Mr. A. Gordon Brooks, commencement speaker. Following Mr. Brook's address, Benny Evans, Senior Class President, presented the class gift to R. D. Cook, member of the school board. Mr. B. P. Lumpkin recognized outstanding Seniors with awards, after which the Girls' Chorus sang "Climb Every Mountain."

The presentation of diplomas to fifty girls and forty-four boys concluded the graduation exercises.

Acknowledgments

A yearbook cannot be produced through the efforts of only one person; it takes the co-operation of many people to do the job well. The staff of LEAVES OF MEMORY wishes to express its gratitude to the following people who have assisted with the 1963 edition of the yearbook:

Mrs. Gladys Wells, editorial advisor, Mrs. Louise Bryson, literary advisor, Mr. Mac Wilson, business advisor, and Mr. Charles H. Morgan, principal, for their guidance and assistance throughout the year;

The staff for the many hours of work that they have contributed to the publication of this book;

Delmar Publishing Company and Mr. Max Ward for their excellent photography and efficient service;

Jimmy Butts for special photography;

The business firms and industries that have advertised in our yearbook.

To Betsy Walker, and Dwight Phaup, Co-editors of the 1964 LEAVES OF MEMORY, and Marvin Piland, Business Manager, we wish much success in their work.

Joyce Nance, Lacey Gordon,
Editors-in-chief
Sara Nell McBride, Business Manager

ADVERTISING:

Key to Better Business

A yearbook cannot be published by hard work alone; financial resources must be plentiful. The key to the financial problems of publication is advertising. A great part of the production costs of our yearbook comes from loyal industries and business firms in this area.

The staff of the 1963 LEAVES OF MEMORY would like to express their deepest appreciation to the businesses who advertised in our yearbook, and hope that their advertising dollars will return to them a hundredfold.
